The Triple K Manufacturing Story

Triple K Manufacturing would like to thank the generations of vendors, shooting enthusiasts and law enforcement professionals that have trusted us to provide world renowned shooting accessories and duty gear. Our team of craftsmen are committed to providing "Made in America" quality and value second to none. In postwar 1946, Colonel Leo Krasne returned to San Diego and opened a business with his father Herman specializing in GI surplus under the Krasne's name.

In 1952, Leo's son Jerry, an avid outdoorsman and shooter joined the family business. Jerry's emphasis on manufacturing and expanding a premium line of hunting and shooting accessories was well received. Jerry renamed the company Triple K Manufacturing after his three children, Kim, Kurt and Karen. In 1994, Jerry's son Kurt took the leadership helm as President and focused on product diversification, international markets and advocacy for "Made in America" product lines while our competitors retreated to off shore production.

Triple K Manufacturing now operates in three product divisions within our 40,000 sq ft production facility located in the Barrio Logan neighborhood of San Diego, CA. Our Premium Leather operation manufactures a wide selection of leather shooting accessories ranging from holsters to scabbards as well as other unique leather items for various other markets. Our Firearm Magazine operation provides the widest selection of aftermarket handgun and rifle magazines in the world. We currently provide handgun and rifle magazines for over 1000 new and vintage firearms. Our Vintage Grips operation manufactures over 1500 models of vintage grips, butt plates, and accessories. If your favorite firearm is a new model or a cherished family heirloom, it's likely that Triple K has an accessory for you to enhance your shooting pleasure.

As we celebrate another year, we renew our commitment to our customers, vendors and employees to exemplify the spirit of "Made in America" and protecting our 2nd Amendment American Heritage.
